

YOUR REALTOR

What should you expect from Scott, your Realtor?

First of all, you can expect me to work very hard. You can expect professionalism towards you and all involved in the process. You can count on me to handle all of the details of the transaction, but also to limit your anxiety through the process.

I work for you exclusively. I don't represent the buyer, or the other agent, or any other entity. I work for you in negotiating for you, advising you, helping you and comforting you. You are always free to ask questions, no matter how elementary you may think they are. You can always count on me to get back with you in a timely manner and to find answers to your questions as soon as possible if I don't know the answer. I am not too proud to admit sometimes I don't know everything.

Most of all, you can expect me to be on your side. You can always count on knowledgeable, efficient and personalized service. I love working with people and enjoy helping you make the largest financial transactions of your lives. I will work hard to ensure you are happy. The highest compliment I can receive is referrals from you.

I can easily be reached by email or by phone. If I don't answer my phone, it pages me that I have a message and I will do my best to answer it as promptly as possible.

I look forward to working with you.

A little about me.

I grew up in Independence and I am a graduate of Truman High School. I went on to get a degree in Business Management from Truman State University with a minor in German. After graduating college I moved to Blue Springs and married my wife Patti in 2000. After college, I went to work for Hallmark Cards, but decided corporate America was not where I belonged. So I began my life in real estate in 2002 with Reece and Nichols. My wife is a pediatric nurse at Children's Mercy Hospital where she works with the liver Dr. in the GI clinic. We adopted our son Grant from Russia in 2006 and adopted our second son, Brecken, from Russia in 2011. It is so exciting watching them grow and learn.

In my spare time I pursue my hobby of woodworking. I love outdoor activities such as mountain biking, skiing, tennis, camping, hiking and many others. I feel so fortunate to have a job I love and people around me who are so supportive.
